VOLO 21 is the first issue of VOLO for 2015... A year which marks the birth of a second commercial magazine from the VOLO Magazine stables, VOLOGLAM.

VOLOGLAM was officially launched on the 5th of January 2015 and is currently available on our mobile magazine portal VOLO-DAILY.COM. It will soon be available on the Apple Newsstand, Zinio and Magzter the digital newsstand boasting of 40 million registered users.

With VOLOGLAM, models who have always wanted to be in VOLO but could not take the step inside due to our strong viewpoint can now be a part of the VOLO Family. VOLO Magazine will also become stronger as VOLOGLAM will allow us to reach a whole new segment of users and introduce them to the VOLO concepts of life :)

Enough about VOLOGLAM, this issue of VOLO is incredibly special. My favorite model in the whole world, Zuzanna Chyba creates history by appearing on the cover of VOLO and VOLOGLAM in the same month. I am also proud to present Aussei Guevara a perennial beauty I have been following for a long time in her first ever nude editorial. We feature the incredibly talented Cam Attree as our featured photographer in the issue, you guys will be stunned at the images this man creates!! WOW!

There is a lot more, but then when is there not. We try to make every issue of VOLO Magazine, a collectors item.

Enjoy the issue,

ALICE WUNDERLAND

I'm Alice aka Miss Wunderland and I love pictures. A lot!! And it's a great feeling to create pictures that match my own perception of beauty.

Modeling allows me to be myself and somebody else at the same time. To be creative and passive. It makes me leave my comfort zone, makes me smile, makes me embrace my body and does all kinds of nice things for me.

It's something I do just for myself, and it has become an important part of my life. I'm very passionate about art, science, books and analog photography... And ice cream!

Alexander Hufenbach

Born in 1976 freelance photographer Alexander Hufenbach is a self taught and passionate artist.

Located in Dortmund, Germany, his career as a professional photographer started in 2007 and since then he's living his dream and passion through pictures.

For him photography isn't about technique or perfect skills, it's about being able to catch the perfect moment of time, that blink of an eye where the magic happens and capture it in pictures.

Beauty is much more than a perfect body or the most beautiful face...he defines it with expression. His way to portray nude in an artful way is to connect with the person in front of his lens. To show the essence of the person (model) he always tries to create an image, that is filled with remembrance of THAT special moment.

Alexanders pictures are filled with soul, his model aren't displayed as objects without clothes, they're shown as proud and strong women with a confident way of eroticism.

His style is not to have a style, to stay free in his creative process and never get bored by his own work, that's why his pictures are so captivating...

TOMEK TOMKOWIAK

Tomek Tomkowiak is currently one of the most established photographers in Europe. He has a degree in philosophy and a penchant for travel but his greatest passion is photography.

R A P H E R

Tomek specialises in glamour, fashion and nude photography, but he realizes his full potential when he shoots original advertising campaigns in black and white. His work has been published in various fashion and travel magazines including FSHN, VOLOGLAM and also in international editions of VOLO & Playboy, including those in Poland, Germany and Russia.

O H O P H O

He has achieved great success at international competitions winning awards at PX3 (Prix de la Photographie Paris) and IPA (International Photo Awards). His photographic journeys lead him most often to Africa. He keeps returning to Zanzibar which has become his second home. In 2010 he published the first Polish album featuring Zanzibar and currently owns a second home on the beach there.

E H T

Tomek says "In principle, it's the image that appeals to a person most. What's unwordable is seemingly nonexistent. And yet, photography, just like the word, is the art of bringing the invisible into light. Bringing into being. The evidence that reality is multipolar. And in this diversity I always seek beauty. The esthetic nature of man. Myself. It's nice for a moment to be 'The Creator'... Nevertheless, it's better left unsaid."

Ruzdi Ekenheim

Ruzdi Ekenheim is a semi-professional Photographer currently based out of San Francisco. He is one of VOLO Magazine's Authorized Photographers. With a past as a Business Development Manager and having lived in Scandinavia, the Balkans, East-Africa as well as the Middle East, after a career with the Swedish Army he has now turned to photography, he has always had an eye for beauty as well. Within photography he is so far a keen photographer of nudes, landscape as well as wildlife and has had several of his works published.

Ruzdi says "When shooting I aim to see the object as I wanna see it in my head as a pleasing picture to my eyes and brain. The picture should be pleasing for both men as well as women. After all I think that both genders sees a naked female body as the most beautiful thing."

To me personally it is also a great sign when I get a women to get naked in front of me and the camera the first time we meet. It's a sign of trust and being naked between strangers is the ultimate sign of trust and belief to me. The model says to me 'I give you my trust to show me, the naked me to the whole world, don't misuse my trust in you...' In today's world with lawyers and a pile of contracts as soon as two people are involved, trust is a rare thing."

In the Artists Words

“Growing up with a father who was a very keen amateur photographer and sitting through countless slide shows of his work, I guess I developed an eye for it without even realizing it. I was given my first manual film SLR, a hand-me-down Practica MTL5 from my dad, when I was in high school and I was hooked. We built a darkroom at home and I quickly learnt how to process and print my own black and white photos.”

VOLO FEATURED ARTIST CAM ATTREE

“After high school I applied for and was accepted into a Diploma of Photography course at the Queensland College of Art. Over the next two years I received my grounding in all aspects of photography but after leaving, I was still unsure of what area of photography I wanted to pursue. I got a job at the local camera store and my plan was to work and build up my equipment before breaking out into the world of professional photography but unfortunately that took me a lot longer to do than I predicted. My love at the time was for landscape and wildlife photography so I spent my weekends and holidays camping and exploring my local areas and building a decent portfolio. In 1998 I entered and won the Australian Wildlife Photographer of the Year award. So with the prize money, I booked a trip to every wildlife photographers dream location - Africa. A few years later I ticked off another one of the locations on my dream list and headed to Antarctica.”

It wasn't long, before I realized that making money from landscape and wildlife photography was a pretty tough gig and unless I could afford to travel to all of these exotic locations in the first place, it was going to be hard turning that dream into reality.

By chance, I was contacted by a young model who was just starting out and needed to build her portfolio. She really loved my photography, even though I had very few people images in it, and asked if I would like to do a shoot with her. That was in 2002 and after a number of shoots with this young lady, so began my love affair with photographing women. It was at art college that I had my first taste of artistic nude photography. Despite being a pimple faced naive 18 year old at art college who was full of nerves, I managed to create some beautiful black and white studio nudes of one of my fellow students. I'm still very proud of those images to this day and in some ways I regret that it took me another 13 years before I did my next artistic nude shoot and really started to explore the genre. I spent the next few years working with models in my area and travelling models from other states in Australia but in 2008 I had the opportunity to work with an amazing model from the USA who was doing an Australian trip. Candace Nirvana was her name and she introduced me to the ARTnudes Network (www.figuremodels.org). An fantastic online community of like minded photographers and models who all pursue the craft of artistic nudes.

Since then I have met and worked with so many truly astounding photographers and models from all parts of the world who keep me inspired to explore, create and refine my craft. I love the challenge of working with new models and extracting the potential I see in them by creating images which they didn't think they were capable of producing. At the same time, I love being inspired by a professional art nude model who can create poses that I just didn't even think were possible.

BODY

TONY YANG

Tony started drawing at a very young age, and after getting his own computer and a copy of Adobe Photoshop 3.01 at the age of 10, he started editing and retouching everything he could find. Earning his bachelor's degree in graphic design at Rutgers, he also discovered his passion for modeling photography.

REHEARSAL
The desire to photograph beautiful women so intimately started in 2003 and his reputation for revealing what goes on behind bedroom doors of Asian Americans made him infamous in the New York community. Tony predominantly photographs Asian women who are stereotyped to be innocent, prude, and cute, to express their inner sensual personalities that are screaming to come out and play. The shock factor of the audience who do not expect Asian women to be sexual, or the sensitivity of Americans to nudity, drives Tony to pour out more erotic work. It is his mission to push the boundaries of stereotypical Asian women.

YD
Even after a decade of serious photography, Tony still works an office tech job while he keeps his passion as a serious and expensive hobby. As an artist, he believes that having full control of expression and choice of subjects are crucial to making art. Tony will never want photographing beautiful women to end up feeling like a job.

Tony will continue to and always find the diamonds in the rough, to bring out their sexual fantasies and desires in front of the camera, and make the women feel the sexiest they've ever been. Hopefully they will want the rest of the world to see it too.

MUSE:ABYGAIL
ARTIST: AVA PIVOT

ABYGAIL by AVA

Abygail is a 24 years old girl from Frankfurt. She had never modeled before we met the first time around the end of 2011. This set features some pictures from our first photoshoot together, when she posed with a bottle of Jack Daniels in the rain. I fell in love with that shot and with her and my love for shooting nude pictures was born at that moment. 2 years later, when VOLO Magazine asked me to feature her (my muse as I call her), I had to go back and find that shot, because only that 'love at first sight' shot could do justice to showing the true progression of my work with Abygail.

For me she is one of the most beautiful women in the world, because she is a person with the best karma you can have and all her beauty are coming from the bottom of her heart and she is not only my muse – she is one of the best friends I have.

Aby is not a regular model, she is very petite, but with a lot of spirit and she is exclusive to me as a photographer. So she is a real muse. The pictures in this set will let you see how Aby helped me develop my skills as a nude photograpger. It never matters what the weather is like, sub zero temperatures or pouring rain...Dark of the night or break of dawn... Aby is always ready to shoot with Ava :) About 2 years ago I moved to berlin, about 600KM away from her. I am so busy with my work and magazines...but this story has inspired me to find time to make some great shots again with the photographic love of my life, my freckled whirlwind... Abygail.

About the Photographer

The founder and CEO of VOLO Magazine, Shankha is a man of multiple interests and talents. He is an established fashion photographer, technology executive and an avid follower of art photography. Being the CEO of two growing magazine brands, Shankha barely finds time to shoot pictures and tries to combine photography as part of his vacation activity.

This set was shot in October 2014 at the Glamis Dunes area of California bordering Mexico. To catch the morning sun, the models and makeup artist met up with Shankha at 3:00 AM in the monring in Los Angeles. The drive was long and dangerous and at one point they found themselves in front of the US Border Patrol who helped them get back on the right track. The makeup for the set was done on location by the incredible Cindy Duong.

"This is another example of what I consider as a modern artistic nude 'VOLO' set. A story, a beautiful location and non-standard angles are all part of what makes VOLO Magazine unique and in this set I have tried to combine all of those things together." says Shankha
